REPORT OF THE SUPERINTENDING SCHOOL COMMITTEE

In submitting my report of the schools of Barnstead, as required by law, I shall take the liberty to depart from the ancient custom of giving a biographical sketch of each teacher, and shall call your attention to some of the defects of the schools during the past year, that you may remedy them in the future.

The appropriation made last March for the support of schools was $1,200; School fund, $138; Literary fund, $105 45; Dog tax, $63. Total, $1,506 45. It was apportioned as follows:

District No. 1,	$99 26	District No. 9,	$124 45
" 2,	90 17	" 10,	119 30
" 3,	122 30	" 11,	81 76
" 4,	78 20	" 12,	129 03
" 5,	106 47	" 13,	95 57
" 6, abolished.		" 14,	134 55
" 7,	82 45	" 15,	94 77
" 8,	61 02	" 26,	87 15

During the past year there have been 29 terms of school with an average length of 9 2-5 weeks. Three schools have been in charge of 21 teachers: 7 male and 14 female. Average wages of male teachers per month, $25 80. Average wages of female teachers per month, $20 31. I find enrolled on the registers the names of 268 pupils, being an increase of 5 over the number returned last year. The progress of the schools, during the school year just past, has been all that could be reasonably expected, though not as great as could be desired. This is partly due to the fact that some of the terms have been but six or eight weeks in length. In this short time the teacher and scholars just got fully acquainted and the school gets under good headway when it stops. Another thing that keeps the schools back is the frequent change of teachers. This is a thing very much to be deplored. When you get a good teacher, make it an object for her to stay. A good teacher is cheap at any price, and a poor one dear at any price.

In two or three of the schools there has not been that degree of improvement that I wished and expected to see. This lack of improvement was chiefly due to lack of discipline. Good discipline we must have if we wish to be successful. With it we may accomplish much; without it, but very little.

Any outside interference with the school is in my opinion highly detrimental. If your children complain of the doings of the teacher, be sure to hear both sides of the question before blaming any one. Do not sneer at, or make light of, any rule the teacher may make, for if you teach your child to disregard one of the rules he will soon disregard them all, and not only do this but lead others to do the same.

The rules relating to attendance and punctuality should receive the careful attention of all parents and guardians; remember "The child is father of the man." We consider promptness and punctuality in business transactions, virtue in any man, and if you wish your boys to become such men you must start them in the right direction. When a child attends school he should be there at the opening of the school, and should be taught that it is a misdemeanor not to be.

The pupil who is habitually irregular in attendance not only injures himself but also the whole class with which he is associated, by retarding its progress; and if he is separated from it, it will generally increase the number of classes. A faithful teacher can do considerable to remedy this irregular attendance, but the greater part must be done at home by the parents.

You cannot afford to let your children lose half of what little schooling there is, as some of you do. There is but a short time in which your children can attend school, and in that short time much is to be done.

Scholars, your future prosperity or adversity depends in a great measure on how you spend your school-days; the habits now formed will cling to you through life. Improve what few advantages you have, and all will be well.

Now a few words to the voters of the town. Do not be niggardly in your School Appropriations; instead of cutting it down as you did last year, raise it from what it was before. When there is but ten weeks of school in a year, something is wrong.

Some may say "The schools are long enough now." This is true of some schools, but a good school is never too long. With more money we can hire better teachers and with better teachers we shall have better schools. Remember what is invested in this way is well invested and will yield a good income in some way or other. In your School Meetings elect some one who will have the necessary courage to go outside of their line of relatives to secure a good teacher if necessary.

Style 109 is the latest and smallest Organ made by the MASON & HAMLIN ORGAN CO., whence it is known as the BABY CABINET ORGAN, Three and a Quarter Octaves; sufficient compass for popular sacred and secular music generally, with excellent quality of tone and fine power. It is not only a sufficient and very attractive organ for children and beginners, but will serve a useful purpose for smaller Sunday and Day schools, and classes of moderate dimensions. Those who examine it are surprised at its fine quality of tone, power and general capacity, at such a marvelously low price.

A VARIETY OF OTHER STYLES OF ORGANS FOR SALE.

Samples constantly on hand, fresh from factories. Lowest prices. Instruments Selected, or Built to your exact liking, and fully warranted. Instruction Books, Music, Piano Stools and Covers, &c.
